

Storm Drain Art Contest 2018

Did you know that most storm drains in Montgomery County lead directly to our streams?...No? You are not alone.

Storm drains are designed to capture rain that falls on streets, parking lots and sidewalks. Unfortunately, some people treat storm drains as trash cans because of the misconception that the water will eventually be cleaned.

The truth is that most of the trash, pollution, chemicals and yard waste that goes into our storm drains enters our local streams untreated!

What can we do about this problem? The answer is educate – spread the word to stop litter and other pollution from entering our storm drains and eventually ending up in our waterways!

Art for the Environment

The Storm Drain Art Contest seeks to use art to educate the public about the connection between our storm drains, streams and the Bay. The winners will see their art painted on storm drains in the County during Earth Month 2018!

We're looking for artists, of all ages, to submit original pieces of art focused on environmental themes such as water quality, storm drains, pollution and our streams.

The art will be used to paint storm drains in the County. View pictures of storm drain art currently installed at the Aspen Hill Library and the Kensington Park Library. The photo album also includes images of how storm drain art is installed.

Rules and Restrictions

Prize:

Six (6) winners will be selected from all valid entries. They will have their storm drain art installed on storm drains or inlets in the Wheaton Urban District on/or around April 2018 (Earth Month).

The timing and the location of the storm drain art will be the sole discretion of the Montgomery County government. The six (6) winners will be chosen based on the guidelines outlined in "What to Enter" and "Judging" sections below.

Deadline for Submissions:

All entries must be received by 4:00pm EST on February 16th, 2018.

Judging:

All entries submitted into the Storm Drain Art Contest will first be reviewed for their validity at meeting the guidelines, rules and restrictions of the contest. Those meeting the minimum guidelines will be eligible to move onto the next round of judging.

Submitted entries must be entered into one of the five (5) categories. The artwork will be judged within the selected category first. The categories are:

- Celebrate Wheaton's Cultural Diversity
- Environment and Youth (For ages 16 and under only)
- Fight litter
- Water
- Wheaton area specific

Valid entries will be presented to a panel of judges, including Montgomery County Department of Environmental Protection staff and local County nonprofits. The entries will be scored based on their ability to meet the "Guidelines for Art" outlined below and the selected category. For each entry, the scores from the judges will be added together. The total scores will then be ranked.

There will be one winner for each of the five (5) categories. All remaining valid entries will then be entered into the judging for the People's Choice Public Voting.

People's Choice - Public Voting:

All valid entries that did not win a category will be voted on by the public on the Department of Environmental Facebook page (Facebook.com/@mygreenmontgomery).

The entries will be posted on the DEP Facebook page on March 10th, 2018. The artwork to receive the most "likes" by 4:00pm EDT on March 16th, 2018 will become the winner of the "People's Choice" award.

The winners will be announced spring 2018. DEP will notify the winners via the contact information provided at the time of entry. Winners will be invited to the installation of their art, but the timing and location of the art installation are the full discretion of Montgomery County.

- A maximum of ten (10) colors can be used on each art design.
- Entries must be digital format, either .jpg, .png or .pdf.
- The art must contain at least one (1) slogan or tagline.

The art entries will be judged on whether the art:

- Educates about a water quality issue related to streams or storm drains or other environmental topic. Examples include: litter, pet waste, oil, chemicals, yard waste, or how the storm drain leads to a nearby stream or other waterway.
- Is creative, colorful and original. We want the designs to be eye-catching. If people don't see it, then it won't be able to serve as an educational tool.
- Is easy to re-create. A complicated design might be creatively interesting, but if County staff or volunteers can't replicate it easily, it won't work.
- Has a coherent, easy to understand message. Don't try to fit every water quality or environmental topic into your art. For the public to easily understand, stick to one theme.

- Has a slogan or tagline. Integrate at least one (1) slogan or tagline into your design. It should be connected to the theme, and large enough to be read by passerbys. The slogan does not have to be in English. Examples from the Aspen Hill Library include, “Mi Agua es Tu Agua”, “Drains to Rock Creek” and “Protect Rock Creek: Scoop the Poop”.
- Is submitted as a high resolution .jpg, .png or .pdf file. Clarity of the art will be used in the judging portion. The art design does not have to be made on a computer, only submitted as a .jpg, .png or .pdf file. For instance, the art can be hand drawn and then a picture of the drawing as a .jpg is submitted to the contest. As long as the clarity and resolution of the image is high.
- The artwork is appropriate for the selected category. There are five (5) categories to choose from:
 - Celebrate Wheaton’s Cultural Diversity
 - Environment and Youth (For ages 16 and under only)
 - Fight litter
 - Water
 - Wheaton area specific
- Meets all the guidelines expressed in the Rules and Restrictions.
